11 - Sustainable Cities and Communities

Cities are hubs for ideas, trade, culture, science, production, social development, and other human activities. They play a crucial role in enabling people to achieve social and economic advancement. It is essential to mobilize support to ensure that policymakers are convinced of the need to include access to information in national and regional development plans.

11 - Sustainable Cities and Communities

The activities of the First International Scientific Conference on Enhancing Educational Outcomes in Urban Peripheries: Challenges and Opportunities for Sustainable Development have commenced. The conference is a collaboration between Al-Noor University and Tal Afar University. The opening remarks were delivered by the President of Tal Afar University, who emphasized the importance of the conference's theme. He was followed by the President of Al-Noor University, who gave an important address. Professor Dr. Fathi Taha Mishaal, representing the National Council for Academic Program Accreditation for the Group of Educational Colleges, also delivered a speech. Additionally, Dean of the College of Education at Al-Noor University, spoke on behalf of the organizing committee. Following these speeches, a panel discussion was held, moderated by Assistant Lecturer Nahidh Al-Ramadhani, Director of the Department of Cultural and Artistic Student Activities. The discussion featured the participation of the President of Al-Noor University, the President of Tal Afar University, the representative of the National Council for Academic Accreditation, the Dean of the College of Education, and the Dean of the College of Arts at Al-Noor University.